

It's up to you to believe the numbers...

It's a scary thought, but a 35-year-old professional woman is three times as likely as a man to become disabled for 90 days or more.¹

Other troubling probabilities:

- Of all 40-year-olds, 43 percent will have a long term disability before age 65.²
- Of all home foreclosures, 48 percent are due to serious medical problems, while only 2-3 percent are death-related.³
